A mistake was also made as to the officers elected for next year. While the comname of Mr. Edward B. Birge, of Indianapolis, for president, he declined the honor, and Mr. William Miles, supervisor of music in the Fort Wayne schools, was elected in his place. The correct list of officers elected is: President, William Miles, Fort Wayne; secretary, Miss Effle C. Hessin, Goshen; executive committee, W. J. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: A recent cartoon in the Chicago Tribune presented a burlesque, grotesque and lurid view of Hoosier literature; yet, as Mr. John C. Ochiltree has ably shown, Chicago journalism has drawn largely on Hoosier intellect for its materials and success. The situation is somewhat similar to that existing between the small city of New Albany and the big city of Louisville. The average Kentuckian is a great adept ir. praising the State of Kentucky, and also in decrying the State of Indiana. Start a Kentuckian to making sport of his idea of the "Hoosier," and, as a witty Hoosier farmer once said, "he will not only talk all day to-day, but he will talk all day to-morrow." New Albany street cars, every fair Sabbath day, are crowded with Louisville people thronging to spend the afternoon on the beautiful Indiana hills. Not long ago a clever New Albany man, employed in a Louisville wholesale store. heard more Kentucky brag than his system could patiently endure, and he broke out as follows: "Great governor! I wish you men would quit bragging about Kentucky. You couldn't run this old town of Louisville a week if you didn't all flock on to the cars every Sunday and fill up on good, fresh Indiana air." This story is applicable at both ends of the State. Chicago newspapers cannot afford to ridicule the good, fresh air of Indiana literature. EMMA CARLETON. New Albany, Jan. 1.

So many of the school officials had left the city that the final session of the meeting was brought to a close earlier than had been intended. The papers read before the asociation yesterday morning dealt with a number of Superintendant J. W. Barlow, of Shelby county, who took part in the discussion of the paper, protested against the tendency of getting too far away from the old school methods which produced good spellers and good figurers. He said that some of the new educational ideas that are bing brought into vesterday on the wagon market and prices were the same as on Wednesday, reported but damnable in their effects. by the wagon weighmaster as follows: He vowed that Indiana was not producing as good spellers to-day as she did unand hard work were well mixed. He read some of the grammar that was the result of the present educational methods. He decried the tendency to entertain children in school, instead of making them dig; and he thought that the general idea was being fostered that there really is a royal road to learning, and that learning can be absorbed instead of being fought for. He said that the tendency had gone yond the schools themselves, and had reached the institutes. Some of the instructors, he declared, were little more than vaudeville artists.

Superintendent John W. Frazier, of Madison county, read a paper on "Efficiency of the Common School Graduate." The discussion was by Superintendent A. C. Huff, of Spencer county, and Superintendent John W. Lewis, of Wabash county. Superintendent Richard Park, of Sullivan county, read a paper on "How to Make Preliminary Institutes and School Visits Valua-E. E. Helt, of Vermilion county, and C. S. Papers were also read by Superintendent A. B. Thomson, of Grant county, on "Common Mothers the Hope of Our Schools;' Elmer C. Jerman, of Decatur county, on 'The Real Value of Township High Schools," and by Frank L. Jones, state superintendent, on "What Education Is of the Most Benefit to the Child?"

It has been fifteen years since we carried them in stock, and the chances are that they will never be in vogue again. Science is against them, for one thing. Doctors and nurses have agreed that as a promoter of colds the trundle bed has no equal. For hygienic reasons trundle beds have been superseded by cribs and infants' beds of a dignified height. Fashion has also had something to do with the change. Regular beds are now built so low that it would be next to impossible to slip the trundle bed under them. The selection was a fortunate one in view of his thorough familiarity with the subject gained during the time he was connected with the Chicago Great Western. The question submitted for consideration was, shall a round-trip ine-months' rate from St. Paul and points to California, going and returning via Missouri river, be $103.50 or $105? Arguments for the higher rates were made by General Passenger Agents R. Lomax, of the Union Pacific, and Field, of the Northern Pacific, and by General Passenger Agent Teasdale, of Omaha, for the minimum. Mr. Cook's decision has been made known, and it is in

OF A GOOD BUSINESS.

The year opens with promise of good business. Of course, yesterday being the first business day of the year, but little was done on the wholesale streets, although a number of mail orders were received. Taking account of stock is hardly completed, but by Monday next traveling salesmen will start out and trade will resume normal conditions. Several houses have increased their number of traveling salesmen and will reach into new territory. The dry goods houses, the confectioners and boot and shoe merchants, as well as iron and hardware stores, with each year, are invading new territory and increasing their business. Then in all lines of trade the prosperity of the country has increased the volume of business of Indiana merchants in the adjoining States. In prices, yesterday, there were no important changes, but it is probable that poultry, eggs and butter will decline soon, present prices being exorbitant, all conditions considered, as compared with compelled him to pay for transportation of live stock in carload lots from Kearney to former years. On Commission row strong Chicago 231/2c per 100 pounds, although a prices are the feature for choice apples, but common stock sells at reasonable figures. Irish and sweet potatoes, cabbage, onlons and kindred articles are still in good supply and prices are steady and reasonable, and the movewish you a New Year filled with much joy, | cers and market men laying in stock for gladness, peace and plenty." The greeting to-day's business, the holidays having cut down their stocks to a low point. Boot and manager, A. J. Smith, general passenger shoe merchants report the outlook for busi-agent, and C. F. Daly, chief assistant gen- ness as very bright. Prices of the goods they handle are much the same as for years past. The same is true of leather. It is too early in the year to make predictions as to the future of prices, but it is hardly believed there will be any further advances. Especially is this true of provisions, which are taking the place of fresh meats to a > only market in which prices have not been advanced to an unreasonable extent. The so-called equality of factor plan in the sugar trade will be done away with by the American Sugar Refining Company today, and national and granulated will be quoted 4.65c per pound net, 30 days, less 1 per cent. for cash without rebate. The plan has been followed by refiners for years. By it the grocers received protection to the extent of 25c per 100 pounds. The assertion is made that as the grocers have not adhered to the terms they made and failed to sell by the factor plan terms, this step becomes necessary. The refiners say that New England is the only section of the country which has stood by the plan strictly, although the grocers of New York and Pennsylvania have followed closely. Hereafter all sales will be on a net cash
